Welcome!

Welcome to NYU's Stern School of Business from the Langone Student Government (LSG)! You have begun an exciting and challenging adventure that will be one of the most rewarding experiences of your life.

Current LSG board members have put this guide together to give you a student's perspective on the important things you'll need to know to navigate through our campus. Though geared towards Langone students, this guide is for all Stern students to help you adjust to graduate school and life at Stern.

We've tried to design this guide to answer all the questions we had as new students, and hope you can benefit from our experience and find the answers that you need. You can find the current list of the Langone Student Government members on our CampusGroups Page.

Please don't hesitate to contact us if there is anything we can do to help make the transition easier.

So read on and enjoy. We look forward to meeting you, and again, Welcome to Stern!

Student Leadership at Stern

Taking on a leadership role while at Stern will enhance your MBA experience – there is a lot of learning that takes place outside of the classroom.

The Langone Student Government (LSG) Washington Square and Westchester share four goals:

1. Advocate student priorities for their respective student bodies
2. Enable students and student-led organizations to grow and prosper
3. Build and maintain Stern's strong community
4. Coordinate with the other leaders to improve the entire NYU Stern community and organize school-wide activities

Entering students are assigned Core Groups, led by Group Leaders who are elected the first weeks of the semester. The Core Group Leaders' responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

1. Coordinating core activities, including core games
2. Setting up social and academic events
3. Keeping their fellow students apprised of important deadlines, events, and tasks for the semester.
4. Liaison between the Student Government and First Year students

Core Group Leaders are important initial points of contact for concerns and questions within a group.

This is a great way to become involved – you should consider running for Core Group Leader! Each Core votes for 2 leaders amongst their classmates and it is the first Core Group Game of the semester.

The LSG VP and AVP of First Years are the go-to people for Core Group Leaders. Via the Core Group Leaders, the VP and AVP of First Years are able to receive information about the Core Group Games, Events at Stern and/or sponsored by LSG, as well as liaise between LSG and all First Year students.

The 2016-2017 Langone Student Government VP of First Years is Roy Levkovitz and the AVP of First Years is Dalia Shteinhauz.

The Office of Student Engagement (OSE)

The Office of Student Engagement (OSE) inspires and enables students to broaden their perspective and explore their potential to create value for the world through business. Taking advantage of Stern's location at the center of global business, OSE offers educational experiences that transcend the "traditional" classroom. OSE creates unparalleled opportunities to help students develop a global mindset, grow as leaders and transform ideas into action while making a lasting impact.

OSE offers opportunities to be engaged in Stern outside of class in three portfolios: Student Clubs, Experiential Learning, and International Programs. Through Student Clubs, OSE also provides ways to build leadership skills while at Stern.

Student Clubs

There are plenty of opportunities to get involved at Stern through:

- Professional Clubs –provide forums for students to hear from business leaders and offer opportunities that leverage Stern's New York City location and the global network.
- Affinity Clubs –serve as professional, educational, and social forums and celebrate the student body's diversity, cultural backgrounds, and experiences
- Special Interest (Sports & Social) Clubs –foster community at Stern through events that combine educational & social engagement.

Once you have completed orientation you will be able to join as many clubs as you would like. Most clubs have membership and leadership roles, with representation from both the Full-Time & the Langone communities.

Additionally, all new students are automatically enrolled in CampusGroups, which is the main information hub for clubs. From the CampusGroups website, students can join clubs, view a club website, post discussions, find contact information for club officers, and view a calendar of events.

If you have any questions or difficulties using the CampusGroups website, please contact the VP of Technology or the LSG Club team.

VP Technology: Stephen Fang

VP & AVP Student Clubs: Brendon Wall and Deanna McKay

You can also import club events into your Google calendar. This can help ensure that you don't miss an important club event. For more information, visit our CampusGroups calendar and click on "Calendar Export".

Clubs work closely with the Office of Student Engagement, and there will be numerous events to look out for over the next year including conferences, summits and other speaker and networking events. Clubs and events are a great way to stay involved in the NYU community!

MBA Experiential Learning Programs create opportunities for students to connect theory and practice through “hands-on” experiences focusing on having a real impact on real-world problems.

- Stern Consulting Corp (SCC) – 3 credits, offered regularly
 - Teams of MBA students work with a large and diverse group of for- and non-profit organizations in New York City. Students learn the structured approach to problem solving while solving a critical business issue for an organization. Also includes a classroom component.
- Stern Signature Projects (SSP) – credits and offerings vary
 - Stern Signature Projects provide specifically tailored opportunities for students to extend their MBA education beyond the classroom by deepening their understanding and engagement with a specific subject, idea and/or industry. Through Faculty Fellow Projects, the Clinton Foundation: Haiti Initiative, the CFDA Masters Workshop & the Global Network University (GNU) Practicum, the Office of Student Engagement provides students with the opportunities to take action while leaving their mark on a specific area of their choosing.
- CFDA Masters Workshop – 3 credits, typically offered in the Spring
 - Through the CFDA Masters Workshop experiential course, MBA students have the opportunity to work with live and growing businesses within New York City’s fashion industry. Stern students are paired with designers to work on a variety of projects including, but not limited to: financial analysis, product market strategies, investor-ready business plans, and expansion strategies.
- Tech and the City – 3 credits, typically offered in the Spring
 - This course provides students with immersive experiential learning about digital entrepreneurship through the lens of successful early-stage technology companies. Student teams are each embedded for a semester into different New York City-based startups from the investment portfolios of Union Square Ventures and other leading tech-focused venture capital firms.
- Michael Price Student Investment Fund (MPSIF)– 3 credits, 2 semesters
 - A family of funds managed directly by NYU Stern MBA students. The fund, part of the overall NYU endowment, was established in 1999 through a generous gift from Michael Price, managing partner, MFP Investors, LLC and former chairman of Franklin Mutual Series funds.
- Board Fellows Program – non-credit
 - The Board Fellows Program provides MBA students with the opportunity to be immersed into non-profit board governance. This program has students act as non-voting members on boards of New York City-based non-profit organizations. During nine-month fellowships, students serve on committees, and complete a strategic governance projects.

MBA International Programs provide opportunities for Stern students to study abroad for a semester, a summer, or an intensive one to two week class. They offer these intercultural experiences in approximately 50 countries, allowing students to learn on an international scale and gain concrete skills that will allow them to be successful in an increasingly global business landscape. Many of the programs align well to Langone Student schedules, particularly one or two-week intensive Doing Business In... (DBi) programs.

- Doing Business In... (DBi) Program – 1.5 to 3 credits, offered regularly
 - One week (1.5 credits) or two week (3.0 credits) courses that take place outside of the semester timeframe (January, May or during breaks)
 - Mixture of local faculty lectures, corporate visits, government and business speakers, and cultural visits
 - Students pay tuition + program fee
 - Locations have included: Milan, Costa Rica, Beijing, Buenos Aires, Bogota, Istanbul, Tel Aviv, Singapore, Hong Kong, Sydney, Sao Paulo, Marrakesh, Berlin, Budapest, Bogota, and more.
 - Must have completed Stern Core Classes or be completing them in the semester when travel takes place
- Summer Programs – 1.5 to 6 credits, offered in Summer
 - MBA International Programs has Summer Program partnerships with schools in Denmark, Germany, and South Korea. Programs run from 1 to 6 weeks during the summer depending on the program, and students are eligible to earn between 1.5 and 6 Stern credits.
- Faculty-Led Courses – 1.5 to 3 credits, offerings vary
 - Faculty-led courses offer unique academic opportunities that leverage NYU Stern and university faculty to provide unparalleled international courses. Past locations have included Panama and Cuba.
- MBA Global Treks – non-credit
 - Through partnerships with club leaders, OSE facilitates student travel experiences, which may include cultural and career motivations. Treks take place over Winter or Spring Break, or immediately preceding or following a semester. Past locations have included Tokyo, Hong Kong, Israel, Greece, as well as domestic locations.
- Semester Abroad – credits and offerings vary
 - Opportunities in 29 different countries

Stern Alumni

The NYU Stern global alumni network, 100,000 strong in more than 125 countries worldwide—one of the largest and most successful alumni bodies of any major business school—is a powerful resource for MBA students.

Students are actively encouraged to tap into the power of the alumni network through NYU SternConnect, Stern's exclusive online alumni community, which houses a comprehensive alumni directory, allowing you to search by location, industry, job function and more.

In addition, there are several ways to stay connected with the alumni community via social media:

1. Facebook
2. Twitter
3. LinkedIn
4. Instagram
5. Pinterest
6. YouTube
7. Flickr
8. Foursquare

The Office of Development and Alumni Relations is another excellent resource for engaging alumni, as they can be helpful in identifying and securing alumni to serve as speakers or panelists for student-led events.

Finally, many of the MBA student clubs at NYU Stern maintain their own alumni relationships; some of these alumni can be accessed directly through Club Officers and the CampusGroups website. Students are encouraged to seek out clubs that serve their career interests, as membership events often include alumni networking events and mixers.

For more information on the NYU Stern global alumni community:

- Visit the Alumni website
- Contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations via phone at (212) 998-4040 or e-mail at alumni@stern.nyu.edu
- Or feel free to stop by the Office of Development and Alumni Relations in person on the 10th floor of KMC.

Some Stern alumni (and their companies) you may have heard of:

Alan Greenspan
Former Chairman,
Federal Reserve

Kenneth Langone
Founder,
Home Depot

Farooq Kathwari
Chairman & CEO,
Ethan Allen Interiors, Inc.

Philanthropy at Stern

Through the Langone Student Government, there are many opportunities to engage in philanthropy and community service both on and off campus, and with other NYU communities such as the full-time students at Stern, as well as the wider NYC community. Since 2015, LSG and SGOV have partnered as a joint Stern Philanthropy group to foster involvement across all Stern graduate students.

While we are all busy working, going to school, and getting involved with the many club and social activities available through Stern, there are also many opportunities to become involved with Stern Philanthropy, while networking with your fellow students in the process.

Throughout the year, LSG and SGOV co-plan many volunteer opportunity events, fundraisers, and drives with charities in the NYC community. Participation of the entire student body is encouraged. Some organizations we have partnered with in the past include:

- Project Sunshine
- New York Cares
- City Harvest
- Housing Works
- Cherished Feet
- Hoboken Food Shelter
- Covenant House
- Cardinal McCloskey Community Services
- American Cancer Society
- Pencils of Promise

To become involved and to stay up to date on all things philanthropy, please “Like” the NYU Stern Philanthropy Page on Facebook or contact the LSG Philanthropy Team with any questions: bbb292@stern.nyu.edu

Technology at Stern

E-mail? Printing? Wireless? Laptops? Your Technology FAQ's answered here.

Be sure to check out the Stern IT checklist for new students!

Technology Essentials

Your Net ID, “abc123”

Your Net ID is a unique identifier of up to six characters, usually comprised of three letters and three numbers (i.e., abc123), that you will use frequently at Stern.

You can find your Net ID by checking the back of your NYU ID, or if you do not have an ID and have yet to activate your Net ID, visit the NetID website with your student ID number (which begins with “N” and should be in your welcome packet) and your birthdate.

Stern Life

Stern Life (<https://sternlife.stern.nyu.edu/dashboard-graduate>) is your one-stop-shop for links to all the important school systems such as:

- NYU Classes (Class management)
- CampusGroups (Club communications and scheduling)
- AIS (Administrative management, tuition payment)
- Google Mail, Google Calendar (E-mail/Calendar)
- Google Docs, Google Sites (Collaboration)
- Facilities (Room reservation)
- Bursar (Paying Fees)

Set Stern Life as one of the favorites in your web browser, you'll be using it plenty!

E-mail at Stern

You'll receive TWO NYU e-mail addresses based on your Net ID:

1. Main Stern e-mail (abc123@stern.nyu.edu)
2. General NYU e-mail (abc123@nyu.edu)

Typically you'll only use your Stern e-mail on a daily basis, however on rare occasion, announcements will be sent to your general NYU account. To make sure you don't miss anything important, we recommend forwarding your general nyu.edu address to your school stern.nyu.edu address to consolidate your NYU e-mails in one convenient place.

Setting up nyu.edu forwarding:

- 1) Access <http://home.nyu.edu/>
- 2) Click “Preferences” in the top of the screen
- 3) Click “Edit” on the “Mail forwarding” options under “Your E-Mail” and enter the e-mail address you wish to forward to (typically abc123@stern.nyu.edu)

Logging into your Stern e-mail:

Log into Stern Life (see Tech Essentials section above), and click Gmail@Stern under the Single-Sign On to login to your Stern e-mail. As you'll notice, Stern uses Gmail as its e-mail system. If you're not familiar with how to use Gmail as your e-mail system, check out these training videos.

What if I already have a Gmail account?

If you are a Stern user with one or more personal, public Gmail accounts and mailboxes, those will stay completely separate from your Stern E-mail account and mailbox that is powered by Google.

Setting up your Stern e-mail on your mobile device

To setup your Stern e-mail on your mobile device, follow the guide below:

Smartphone Setup

Setting up your desktop e-mail client (Outlook, Thunderbird, Mac Mail):

If you'd like to use a desktop e-mail client to access your Stern e-mail, utilize one of the following setup guides:

Outlook

Thunderbird

Mac Mail

Setting up stern.nyu.edu forwarding:

If you wish to consolidate your e-mail into one inbox, or cannot access your Stern e-mail at work because of security restrictions, you can also setup your Stern e-mail address to forward to a personal or work account. Forwarding of the Stern e-mail address is controlled through your Gmail@Stern settings.

- 1) Log into Gmail@Stern
- 2) Click the gear icon at the top right of the screen, then click “Mail Settings”

- 3) Click the Forwarding and POP/IMAP tab
 - 4) Under the Forwarding option, enter an address to forward your Stern e-mail to
- Tip: By forwarding both your general NYU e-mail to your Stern e-mail and your Stern e-mail to your personal e-mail, you ensure that all your NYU-related e-mails wind up in one place.*

Question: “Why the heck do I have two school e-mail accounts?”

Answer: Stern developed their own technology infrastructure to better meet the unique needs of business school students – as a result, Stern specific services (Simon, AIS) are managed separately from those of the university in general (home.nyu.edu). So you’ll need two logins.

Question: “Where do I change and manage my NYU Stern password?”

Answer: Please go to <http://simon.stern.nyu.edu/>. You will find the tab for changing your password at the top of the page.

Setting Up a Vanity E-mail Address

You probably prefer being referred to by your name rather than your Net ID. Your primary e-mail address contains your Net ID (abc123@stern.nyu.edu), but you may set up a vanity address using your first and last name to better represent yourself as a business professional (john.smith@stern.nyu.edu). Stern explicitly forbids the use of nicknames and partial names – and they’ve developed the latest in automated anti-nickname technology (ex: john@stern.nyu.edu will be rejected by the system).

- 1) Access <http://simon.stern.nyu.edu/>
- 2) Click “Personal Address” at the top of the screen

Note: Your vanity e-mail address and primary e-mail address both will receive the same e-mails without additional configuration (the vanity e-mail address is an alias for your primary account).

Wireless Access

All locations in KMC and Tisch have wireless internet access. Click here for instructions to setup wireless access. We recommend setting up access at Stern and using the SternOnTheMove2 network.

Printing at Stern

As a student at Stern, you have access to printers on campus. When printing from a Stern computer, your print job will be sent to the print system. The system will hold your print jobs until you release them at a Release Station. To release a print job, walk over to a printer, which will typically have a LCD panel near it, swipe your NYU ID on the LCD panel, and follow the prompt on the screen to print your document. By default, you can print 1,000 sheets per year (both sides).

Where can you find these printers?

KMC Building:

K381 (Rotunda)
K491 (Rotunda)
K470 (Starbucks Lounge)

Shimkin Building:

S2-100 (Reading Room)
S2-110 (Meeting Room)
S2-101 (Bloomberg Room inside of S2-100)
S4-130 (Meeting Room)
S5-154 (Right Outside of OCD office)
S6-130 (MBA Student Leader Suite)

Find the most up-to-date list of printer locations on the IT website

How do I print from my laptop?

To install Print@Stern on your laptop, follow these instructions.

Increasing Your Printer Quota

If your printing needs exceed the 1,000 page quota, you may add additional pages.

Typically less than 5% of students per year will need to increase their quota, but you might if you decided to print out several copies of Professor Damodaran's corporate finance class notes.

Laptops at Stern

Requirements

All students are required to have a laptop on campus. In practice, full-time students will need laptops (since there are not enough terminals to go around), but Langone students can often get away with using their home or office computers.

Software Requirements

MS Office is required for both Mac and PC users and is available at a reduced price to students with valid NYU ID cards. To order, visit the NYU Computer Store website. In practice, using Google Docs/Sheets works for most classes and you can use Virtual Applications to get other software you may need.

IT Help Desk

For any of your technical questions, Stern provides a helpdesk service to help you get to where you need to go. You can either e-mail them at helpdesk@stern.nyu.edu, call them at 212-998-0180 or visit them in person in the basement of Tisch L-100 (next to the Beer Blast room, take the Shimkin Elevators to the bottom floor).

Where Can I Study?

You've got a big case study coming up, and you need a place to take your group to study, or you need a quiet place to cram for that Finance Midterm.

Let's take a quick look at where you can go.

All locations in KMC and Tisch have wireless internet access. Details on:

<https://sites.google.com/a/stern.nyu.edu/sternit/home/wireless>

Here's a quick legend for some of the access and study rules:

Means this place requires a card to access, you swipe to get in.

This location is reserved for MBA's only. Undergrads can be kicked out.

Shhh! This is a quiet study space.

This uses the online reservation system at CampusGroups located at:

<https://virtualems.stern.nyu.edu/>

Meeting rooms can be reserved for up to 4 consecutive hours at a time, and one room for any given student, and usually require at least 3 students to use the space. If you're 15 minutes late, your reservation can be forfeited (does not apply to administrative reservations). Individual spots at the reading rooms can be reserved for 3 hours per calendar day, and again, one spot per student!

KMC UC/1st Floor

KMC Lobby Located in the back right as you enter the main lobby, a seating area, power outlets, and a view of the lobby.

Sosnoff Lounge Located under the Grand Staircase, most people will recognize this space with its couches, chairs, and tables as the place you get a snack or dinner. People also study here.

KMC UC-100 () The Beer Blast room is converted to an MBA study lounge with chairs and tables during the rest of the week when it's not in use as a classroom. This is located in the Upper Concourse, one floor down.

KMC 2nd Floor

KMC 2-100 () 46 Quiet, individual study cubicles inside here. Reserve ahead of time - individual spots. There's a sub-room inside KMC 2-101 that contains Bloomberg computers & another printer. Large communal tables in the room, too.

KMC 2-110 (  ) 18 Meeting rooms inside here. There's also a printer. Reserve ahead of time to get your spots here. Requires: 3 students per room.

KMC 3rd Floor

3rd Floor Rotunda () 2 print stations, 10 computers, and spaces for group tables and individual tables against the windows. It can get noisy, especially when classes have breaks.

KMC 4th Floor

KMC 4-130 (  ) 6 Meeting rooms inside here. There's also a printer, a couple of lounge seats, stapler, and long table to sit at. Reserve ahead of time to get your spots here. Requires: 3 students per room.

4th Floor Rotunda () 2 print stations, 4 computers in the hall, located above the 3rd Floor Rotunda (so some noise from below), and spaces for group tables and individual tables against the windows. Can be noisy.

KMC 4-70: Starbucks Lounge ( ) Named due to the similar feel and colors, this is an open study room with a printer, seats, and laptop tables.

KMC 5th Floor

Outside KMC 5-100, Computer Stations A print station, 8 computers, 2 printers, tucked away in the far back corner outside the OCD office.

WARNING: As often as we are surrounded by fellow Sternies, please remember to always keep an eye on your things. Theft does happen, and you are responsible for your own belongings. Don't leave your phone or valuables unattended.

Stern Classrooms () Classrooms may be used if open, but note that professors and administrators can kick groups out for academic purposes or school uses. Student activities have second priority. If you have a reservation and the room is locked, contact the front desk to open the room.

Outdoor Spaces

Gould Plaza The large open plaza space that is above Paulson Auditorium, with seating. Around the corner is a secured bike rack, too, accessible via a swipe card.

Other Outdoor Patios in Stern There are a number of other outdoor platforms in Stern, but most of them are not accessible to the student body.

Other Options

There are other options for study space if it seems like the building is filled up. Keep in mind, these are often open to the rest of NYU or to the public.

Tisch The undergraduate building of NYU Stern has numerous lobby spaces, classrooms, study areas, and laptop stations, but undergraduates usually have priority here. Accessible from KMC via the 1st floor corridor or the Upper and Lower Concourse levels.

KMC-Bobst Corridor Located outside between KMC and Bobst, there are multiple metal chairs and tables here to sit. Not well-lit at night though.

Bobst Library (70 Washington Sq. South) The massive brick building beside KMC, you can find study rooms in the lower level, and throughout the stacks on levels 4 through 10. The mezzanine is a good place to wait out bad weather, and you can rent laptops (strict about tardy returns) here, too.

Kimmel Center (60 Washington Sq. South) The student center beside Bobst has a Commuter Lounge on the 2nd floor, and lounges on either side of the main stairway entering the building. Floors 2, 7, 8, and 9 all contain more study areas.

Washington Square Park Located just north and west of NYU Stern, and in front of Bobst and Kimmel, you'll find a large park. Having recently undergone a renovation, there are spaces to sit and study on stone or metal benches, some tables, and grass. Plus a fountain and a dog run too.

For wireless access on the NYUroam network (outside of Stern/KMC/Shimkin/Tisch), you can look at this page: <http://www.nyu.edu/its/wireless/>

Got Food?

Trapped in KMC and need a quick bite?

SOSNOFF LOUNGE/GRAD CAFE is an easy option located on the 1st Floor of KMC. Sosnoff offers drinks, coffee, snacks, and pre-made salads and sandwiches.

Sounds good, but how do I get there?

From 4th Street Entrance: Walk past elevators, go down small flight of stairs and turn right.

Hours:

Monday – Thursday: 8 AM-8 PM

Friday: 8 AM-7 PM

Saturday: 8 AM-3:30 PM

Sunday: CLOSED

Got a late night group project or an early morning study session and need a quick jolt of caffeine or a sugar high?

KMC has vending machines with drinks, snacks, and candy located on Floors 2, 3, and 6 between the two sets of elevators on the North Side of the building. Most even accept credit cards!

Neighborhood Eats

Whether you want to grab something on your way to class or plan a nice dinner out with friends, we've scoped out many of the offerings within walking distance of NYU and noted cost ranges ($ to $$$); where available, websites have been listed so you can check out menus, hours, etc.

Where Can I Get Books, a Laptop & School Supplies?

Text Books

NYU Bookstore

(Note: The Professional Bookstore is now part of the Main Bookstore at this location.)

726 Broadway

(212) 998-4667

<http://www.bookstores.nyu.edu>

Hours: Monday – Friday.....10 AM- 8 PM

Saturday & Sunday.....11 AM-6 PM

Instructions:

To get a list of the books you need, click on the link to the NYU bookstore above. Then click on “Textbook”. Next click on “Get Your Personalized Coursebook List”. Now select the term, enter your Net ID & date of birth. Your list of books including ISBN numbers will appear.

Please note that not all classes require a textbook, we suggest you confirm with your class Syllabus.

Amazon is another great source for books, both new and used. In fact, Amazon offers a free six month membership in Amazon Prime (benefits include free 2-day shipping) to students, all you need is your stern e-mail address to qualify: <https://www.amazon.com/gp/student/signup/info>

TextbookRush is another online source for textbooks with numerous promotions for free shipping

If you can get the list of books you need for class ahead of time, you can also buy really inexpensive used books from sites like AbeBooks.

Additional online sources for textbooks include: <http://www.textbookrevolution.org> and <http://www.textbooks.com/> among others.

You can also rent your books for the semester. If interested in renting, try out these sites:

<http://nyubookstore.rentsbooks.com/>

<http://www.chegg.com/>

<http://www.textbookrush.com>

<http://www.bookrenter.com/>

Some eBooks are available through “CafeScribe”, “Jumpbooks” and “CourseSmart eBooks”:

<http://www.bookstores.nyu.edu/main.store/booksearch.html>. The list of available eBooks is growing every day.

NYU Stern Book Swap

At the end of each semester a grassroots book swap tends to pop up on Facebook, mainly on the LSG Facebook Group. Here students can swap books with those who are in the opposite core classes. Be sure to check Facebook in late August and early January to find these “Swaps” if interested.

Virtual Business Library (VBL)

The Virtual Business Library \(VBL\) is your personal research library at Stern or on the go. It is an extremely valuable and comprehensive resource and one you should become familiar with for all your research needs. You can find the library directly at <http://guides.nyu.edu/vbl/> or you can access it through Sternlinks. You will need to log in with your Net ID and password.

There is a short tutorial video on the home page. It's only a few minutes and worth watching. The website is broken up into different categories that help navigate the site. The sidebar shows the categories of the types of information you're looking for, and the top sections will help you figure out how to use the site.

If you need assistance in your search, check out the FAQs section to see the various ways in which your questions can be answered. Even if there is a resource you need that the library does not have, there is an interlibrary loan service. You can make a request through the NYU library (not the business library) and they can borrow it for you and send it as a PDF.

This resource will become your best friend!

Wanna try parking on the street? Here are some tips!

Free Parking

Remember, sides of the street do matter!

Typically there's a lot of free parking after 6 pm on weekdays and all day Saturday and Sunday along:

- West 4th St.
- West 3rd St.
- Washington Place
- Waverly Place
- Greene St.
- Mercer St.
- University Place

Meters

There are both one-hour and two-hour meters. Read all parking signs, if you are unsure, go to <http://www.nycdot.info/#>. You can look at an interactive map to check all street signs prior to leaving home.

One-hour Meters.

- On the south side of Washington Place 8am until 7pm Monday – Saturday.
- And on 8th Street 7:30am until 10pm Monday – Saturday.

Two-hour Meters.

- On La Guardia Place 9 am until 7 pm Monday – Saturday.
- Further West on W 4th St towards 6th Ave 8:30 am until 10 pm Monday – Saturday.

Remember not to block hydrants (you must be at least 15 ft. away), and always check for posted temporary no parking signs. They put those up for construction, buses, and more on a regular basis.

On Sundays, there are no meter rules applied, although watch out, they tend to stick up signs for no parking all over on weekends for various street fairs or other construction work.

In addition, you can also use the website: <http://nyc.bestparking.com/> or their app to help you find available parking in NYC.

There's no parking at any time at the following locations:

- In the front of Bobst Library
- North side of Washington Square South, any side of Washington Square East or West
