Welcome!

Welcome to NYU's Stern School of Business from The Langone Student Government (LSG)! You have begun an exciting and challenging adventure that will be one of the most rewarding experiences of your life.

Current LSG board members have put this guide together to give you a student's perspective on the important things you'll need to know to navigate through our campus. This is a guide for all Stern students, Full-Time, and Langone (Weeknights, Weekends and Westchester), to help you as you adjust to graduate school and life at Stern.

We've tried to design this guide to answer all the questions we had as new students and hope you can benefit from our experience and find the answers that you need. During your time at Stern please feel free to contact us directly to answer any other questions that may arise.

You can find lists of current student leaders, including Full-Time SGov, and LSG Board members, Club Presidents, Block Leaders and Core Group Leaders here:

<http://www.stern.nyu.edu/portal-partners/student-activities/student-leadership/index.htm>

Seriously, don't hesitate to contact us if there is anything we can do to help make the transition easier.

So read on and enjoy. We look forward to meeting you, and again, Welcome to Stern!

Let's get started!

The first thing you probably want to do is take a look at the academic calendar, that way you can plan your getaways and see when you need to be back for classes. The link is below:

Student Leadership at Stern

Taking on a leadership role while at Stern will enhance your MBA experience; there is a lot of learning that takes place outside of the classroom.

The Full Time Stern Student Government (FT SGov), and The Langone Student Government (LSG) Washington Square and Westchester share four goals:

1. Advocate student priorities for their respective student bodies
2. Enable students and student-led organizations to grow and prosper
3. Build and maintain Stern's strong MBA FT, and Langone communities
4. Coordinate with the other Council of Leaders members to improve the entire NYU Stern community and organize school-wide activities

The Council of Leaders is comprised of the heads of each branch of the MBA student government at Stern. This includes FT SGov, LSG WSQ, and LSG Westchester. The Council of Leaders meets with the Deans about various issues and serves as the united voice of the entire New York University Stern School of Business student population.

The Council of Leaders for 2013-2014:

SGOV President – Shawn McClain

SGOV Executive VP – Thomas Hamnett

LSG WSQ President – Justin Choudhury

LSG WSQ Executive VP – Kira Lom

LSG Westchester President – Iris Colon

LSG Westchester EVP – Rachel Hayes

Entering students are assigned into Block or Core Groups, led by Group Leaders who are elected in the first week of the semester. Their responsibilities include, but are not limited to, helping coordinate block/core activities including block/core games, setting up social and academic events, and keeping their fellow students apprised of important deadlines, events, and tasks for the semester. Block and Core Group Leaders are important initial points of contact for concerns and questions within a group. This is a great way to become involved, you should consider running for Block or Core Group Leader!

Student Clubs

There are plenty of opportunities to get involved at Stern with 18 Professional Clubs, 12 Community Clubs and 9 Sports & Social Clubs.

Once you have completed orientation you will be able to join as many clubs as you wish. In fact, part of your orientation will be a club fair where you can meet representatives from each club to ask questions and put your name on their mailing lists.

Most clubs have membership and leadership from both the Full-Time and Part-Time communities.

MBA Club websites can be found at: <http://www.stern.nyu.edu/mbaclubs>

Additionally, CampusGroups is the main information hub for clubs and all new students are automatically enrolled in CampusGroups. From the CampusGroups website, students can join clubs, post discussions, find contact information for club officers, and view a calendar of events.

If you have any questions or difficulties using the CampusGroups website, please contact either the LSG or FT SGov VP of Technology or the Club Co-chairs. You may find the contact information of LSG board members on the LSG board website: <http://nyustern.campusgroups.com/lsg/board/> and contact information for FT SGov board members can be found here on the FT SGov board website: <http://nyustern.campusgroups.com/SGov/executive-board/>

You can also import club events into your google calendar. This can help ensure that you won't miss an important club event. For more information, go to the following link and click on where it says "Calendar Export" <https://nyustern.campusgroups.com/calendar>

Clubs work regularly with the student activities office and there will be a number of events to look out for over the next year including conferences, summits and other speaker and networking events.

Stern Career Services

NYU Stern meets the various career needs of Alumni, Langone Students and Executive MBA Students through The Career Center for Working Professionals.

<http://www.stern.nyu.edu/OCD/Langone/index.htm>

Email: ccwp@stern.nyu.edu

44 West 4th Street, Suite 4-140
New York, NY 10012

The Career Center for Working Professionals

(CCWP) provides Langone and EMBA students as well as alumni lifelong career support through a range of services to effectively manage their careers and conduct independent job searches. Support includes Individual Career Counseling Appointments in person or via telephone focused on Self-Assessment, Job Search Strategy, Résumé Review, Networking Techniques, Interview Preparation and Mock Interviews. CCWP also hosts a number of Professional Development Workshops and Webinars throughout the year.

Through your Career Account, an online career resource, you have access to videos of past events, research tools and career development guides, job postings, the event calendar and the ability to register for events. As a student, a Career Account has been set up for you:

www.stern.nyu.edu/careeraccount. Use the 9-digit N# on the back of your ID card to login.

The Office of Career Development (OCD) is committed to facilitating the full-time student job search process by providing the best available resources and expertise to help enable career aspirations and employment goals, resulting in an optimal fit with organizations.

To guide full-time MBAs through the process, NYU has created the Career Development Program (CDP), a two-year curriculum that will equip you with the tools necessary to identify a career choice, prepare for the job market, find an internship and ultimately, a full-time position. It consists of required and elective workshops, panel discussions, mini-courses, guest speakers, Q&A sessions, mock interviews, résumé critiques and functionally-specific strategy groups. As a student, a Career Account has been set up for you: www.stern.nyu.edu/careeraccount. Use the 9-digit N# on the back of your ID card to login.

Academic Affairs

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY · LEONARD N. STERN SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

MBA Academic Affairs houses two important functions at Stern:

Academic Program Advising and International Programs

MBA Academic Affairs – Program Advising assists Full-Time and Langone Program students with their academic programming questions and needs.

Whether you realize it or not, they are behind the scenes making sure that you are in the right courses and monitoring your progress all along the road to graduation. They want you to graduate on-time, having achieved all of your academic goals along the way. They know the program structure, policy, procedures and requirements that will enable you to graduate and can help you find answers to questions regarding your academic program and for achieving your academic goals while at Stern.

On the Academic Affairs web pages, you will find information for incoming new students, an outline of your MBA program, and a list of frequently asked questions. Curriculum, course sequencing and suggested programs of study along with the academic policies and procedures for such items as an independent study, specializations and Leaves of Absence are also found here. Academic Affairs wants you to take advantage of every opportunity Stern has to offer and they're here to help you do so.

MBA Academic Affairs – International Programs manages the delivery of Stern's global course offerings and international academic opportunities.

Semester Study Abroad, Short-Term Summer, and Doing Business in (DBi) courses are all run through MBA Academic Affairs; they literally provide a world of opportunity so take advantage!

Visit the Academic Affairs websites for program specific information and international opportunities!

Stern Alumni

The NYU Stern global alumni network, 100,000 strong in more than 100 countries worldwide, is a powerful resource for MBA students.

Students are actively encouraged to tap into the power of the alumni network through NYU SternConnect (www.stern.nyu.edu/alumni), Stern's exclusive online alumni community, which houses a comprehensive alumni directory, allowing you to search by location, industry, job function and more.

In addition, there are 3 other sources available for students to connect with the alumni community:

1. Stern alumni Facebook fan page: <http://www.facebook.com/sternalumni>
2. LinkedIn: <http://www.linkedin.com/groupInvitation?gid=35710&sharedKey=0707DC28C1FC>
3. Flickr: <http://www.flickr.com/photos/33445423@N08/>

The Office of Development and Alumni Relations is another excellent resource for engaging alumni, as they can be helpful in identifying and securing alumni to serve as speakers or panelists for student-led events.

Finally, many of the MBA student clubs at NYU Stern maintain their own alumni relationships; some of these alumni can be accessed directly through Club Officers and the CampusGroups website. Students are encouraged to seek out clubs that serve their career interests, as membership events often include alumni networking events and mixers.

For more information on the NYU Stern global alumni community:

- visit the alumni website at sternalumni.nyu.edu
- contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations via phone at (212) 998-4040 or via email at alumni@stern.nyu.edu
- or feel free to stop by the Office of Development and Alumni Relations in person on the 10th floor of KMC.

Some Stern alumni (and their companies) you may have heard of:

Alan Greenspan
Former Chairman,
Federal Reserve

Kenneth Langone
Founder,
Home Depot

Farooq Kathwari
Chairman & CEO,
Ethan Allen Interiors, Inc.

Technology at Stern

Email? Printing? Wireless? Laptops? Your Technology FAQ's answered here.

Also be sure to check out the Stern IT checklist for new students at:

<http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/new-students.html>

Technology Essentials

Your Net ID, “abc123”

Your Net ID is a three letter, three number unique identifier (i.e., abc123) that you will use frequently at Stern.

You can find your Net ID by checking the back of your NYU ID, or if you do not have an ID and have yet to activate your Net ID, go to the following website (<https://start.nyu.edu/ibin/getnetid.cgi>, you'll need your student ID number (which begins with “N” and should be on your welcome packet) and your birthdate.

Sternlinks

Sternlinks (<http://sternlife.stern.nyu.edu/st/dashboard>) is your one-stop-shop for links to all the important school systems such as:

- NYU Classes (Class management)
- CampusGroups (Club communications and scheduling)
- AIS (Administrative management, tuition payment)
- Google Mail, Google Calendar (Email/Calendar)
- Google Docs, Google Sites (Collaboration)
- Facilities (Room reservation)

Set SternLinks (<http://sternlife.stern.nyu.edu/st/dashboard>) as one of the favorites in your web browser, you'll be using it plenty!

Email At Stern

You'll receive TWO NYU email addresses:

1. Main Stern email (me123@stern.nyu.edu)
2. General NYU email (me123@nyu.edu)

Typically you'll only use your Stern email on a daily basis, however on rare occasion announcements will be sent to your general NYU account. To make sure you don't miss anything important, we recommend forwarding your general nyu.edu address to your school stern.nyu.edu address to consolidate your NYU emails in one convenient place.

Setting up nyu.edu forwarding:

- 1) Access <http://home.nyu.edu>
- 2) Click “Preferences” in the top of the screen
- 3) Click “Edit” on the “Mail forwarding” options under “Your E-Mail” and enter the email address you wish to forward to (typically me123@stern.nyu.edu)

The screenshot shows the NYUHome interface. At the top, the navigation bar includes 'Preferences' (circled in red), 'Channels', 'Ask ITS', and 'Log Out (ksa249)'. Below the navigation bar is a banner for 'NYUHome' with a background image of a building. A menu bar contains 'Home', 'Academics', 'Research', 'News', 'Files', and 'NYU Life'. The main content area is titled 'Summary of Settings & Preferences for Kazim S Ali'. It is divided into two columns: 'Your NYUHome Account' and 'Your E-Mail'. The 'Your E-Mail' section includes fields for 'Name', 'NYUHome address', 'Personal address(es)', 'NYU Directory address', 'Mail forwarding', and 'Vacation message'. The 'Mail forwarding' section is circled in red and shows 'Mail forwarding is enabled.' with an 'EDIT' button.

Note: Your home.nyu.edu account is associated with your general NYU ID and has a separate password from your Stern account. You may configure your general school password through start.nyu.edu.

Logging into your Stern email:

Log into SternLinks (see Tech Essentials section above), and click Gmail@Stern under the Single-Sign On to login to your Stern email.

As you'll notice, Stern utilizes Gmail as its email system. Many of you are already familiar with how to utilize Gmail as your email system, but if you're not, check out these training videos (<https://sites.google.com/a/stern.nyu.edu/google/training/gmail-videos>)

What if I already have a gmail account?

If you are a Stern user with one or more personal, public Gmail accounts and mailboxes, those will stay completely separate from your Stern E-mail account and mailbox that is powered by Google.

Setting up your Stern email on your mobile device

To setup your Stern email on your mobile device, follow one of the following guides (based on your device manufacturer):

- iPhone: <https://sites.google.com/a/stern.nyu.edu/google/migration-guides/iphone-configuration>
- Blackberry: <https://sites.google.com/a/stern.nyu.edu/google/migration-guides/configure-blackberry-without-gmail-app>

Setting up your desktop email client (Outlook, Thunderbird, Mac Mail):

If you'd like to use a desktop email client to access your Stern email, utilize one of the following setup guides:

- Outlook: <https://sites.google.com/a/stern.nyu.edu/google/outlook-setup/outlook-google-sync-app>
- Thunderbird: <https://sites.google.com/a/stern.nyu.edu/google/migration-guides/thunderbird-configuration>
- Mac Mail: <https://sites.google.com/a/stern.nyu.edu/google/migration-guides/mac-mail-for-new-users>

Setting up stern.nyu.edu forwarding:

If you wish to consolidate your email into one inbox, or cannot access your Stern email at work because of security restrictions, you can also setup your stern email address to forward to a personal or work account. Forwarding of the Stern email address is controlled through your Gmail@Stern settings.

- 1) Log into Gmail@Stern
- 2) Click the gear icon at the top right of the screen, then click “Mail Settings”

- 3) Click the Forwarding and POP/IMAP tab
- 4) Under the Forwarding option, enter an address to forward your Stern email to.

Tip: By forwarding both your general NYU email to your stern email and your stern email to your personal email, you ensure that all your NYU-related emails wind up in one place.

Question: “Why the heck do I have two school email accounts?”

Answer: Stern developed their own technology infrastructure to better meet the unique needs of business school students – as a result, Stern specific services (Simon, AIS) are managed separately from those of the university in general (home.nyu.edu). So you'll need two logins.

Question: “Where do I change and manage my passwords?”

Answer: Please go to <http://simon.stern.nyu.edu/>. You will find the tab for changing your password at the top of the page.

Setting Up a Vanity Email Address

If you're like me, you probably prefer being referred to by your name rather than your Net ID. Your primary email address contains your Net ID (me123@stern.nyu.edu), but you may set up a vanity address using your first and last name to better represent yourself as a business professional (kazim.ali@stern.nyu.edu). Stern explicitly forbids the use of nicknames and partial names – and they've developed the latest in automated anti-nickname technology (ex: kali@stern.nyu.edu will be rejected by the system).

- 1) Access <http://simon.stern.nyu.edu>
- 2) Click “Personal Address” at the top of the screen

Note: Your vanity email address and primary email address both will receive the same emails without additional configuration (the vanity email address is an alias for your primary account).

Wireless Access

All locations in KMC and Tisch have wireless internet access. Instructions to setup wireless access are below:

- <http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/networking.html>

Printing At Stern

As a student at Stern, you have access to printers on campus. When printing from an Stern computer, your print job will be sent to the print system. The system will hold your print jobs until you release them at a Release Station. To release a print job, walk over to a printer which will typically have a LCD panel near it, swipe your NYU ID, and follow the prompt on the screen to print your document. By default you can print 1,000 sheets per year (both sides).

Where can you find these printers?

KMC Building:

K381 (Rotunda)
K491 (Rotunda)
K470 (Starbucks Lounge)

Shimkin Building:

S2100 (Reading Room)
S2110 (Meeting Room)
2101 (Bloomberg Room inside of S2100)
4130 (Meeting Room)
S5154 (Right Outside of OCD office)
S6130 (MBA Student Leader Suite)

Note: For the most up-to-date list of printer locations check the IT website at: <http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/faqs/print.html#where>

How do I print from my laptop?

To install Print@Stern on your laptop you will need to go to <http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/print.html> and follow the instructions.

Increasing Your Printer Quota

If your printing needs exceed the 1000 page quota, you may add additional pages by following the instructions here <http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/faqs/print.html#sternbucks>. Typically less than 5% of students per year will need to increase their quota, but you might if you decided to print out several copies of Professor Damodaran's corporate finance class notes.

Laptops at Stern

Requirements

All students are required to have a laptop on campus. In practice, full-time students will need laptops (since there are not enough terminals to go around) but part-time students can often get away using their home or office computers.

In purchasing a laptop for school, Stern recommends the following laptop models and suggested specifications: <http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/services/mobile.html>

Dell E6320 or Apple MacBook Pro 13'

Note: If you purchase a laptop at the NYU Computer Store you can make installment payments interest free and will get hardware support from the IT Help Desk.

Software Requirements

MS Office is required for both Mac and PC users and is available at a reduced price to students with valid NYU ID cards. To order, visit the NYU Computer Store website.

IT Help Desk

For any of your technical questions, stern provides a helpdesk service to help you get to where you need to go. You can either email them at helpdesk@stern.nyu.edu, call them at 212-998-0180, file an online ticket request at <http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/helpdesk.html> or visit them in person in the basement of KMC UC-120.

Where Can I Study?

You've got a big case study coming up, and you need a place to take your group to study, or you need a quiet place to cram for that Finance Midterm.

Let's take a quick look at where you can go.

All locations in KMC and Tisch have wireless internet access. Details on:

<http://community.stern.nyu.edu/it/networking.html>

Here's a quick legend for some of the access and study rules:

Means this place requires a card to access, you swipe to get in.

This location is reserved for MBA's only. Undergrads can be kicked out.

Shhh! This is a quiet study space.

This uses the online reservation system at Campusgroups located at:

<https://nyustern.campusgroups.com/rooms.aspx>

Try our Mobile App to reserve rooms (beta testing as of 6/1/2013)

Open <http://nyustern.campusgroups.com/rooms> on your Mobile (iPhone/iPad, Android, Windows Phone)

Meeting rooms can be reserved for up to 4 consecutive hours at a time, and one room for any given student, and usually require at least three students to use the space. If you're 15 minutes late, your reservation can be forfeited (doesn't apply to administrative reservations). Individual spots at the reading rooms can be reserved for 3 hours per calendar day, and again, one spot per student!

KMC UC/1st Floor

KMC Lobby When not occupied by student groups, located in the back right as you enter the main lobby, an area with four stools, power outlets, new glass-top tables and a view of the lobby.

KMC Lobby 2 Behind the security guards, four couch seats and a small table. A printer is around the corner.

Sosnoff Lounge Located under the Grand Staircase, most people will recognize this space with its couches, chairs, and tables as the place you get a snack or dinner. People also study here.

KMC UC-100 The Beer Blast room is converted to an MBA study lounge with chairs and tables during the rest of the week when it's not in use as a classroom. This is located in the Upper Concourse, one floor down.

KMC 1-73A/B/E, 1-75A/B/C Located in the corridor between Tisch and KMC, you have six small meeting rooms inside here. There's also external computer terminals, a printer, and a copier here in the main room. Requires: 3 students/room.

KMC 2nd Floor

KMC 2-100: 46 Quiet, individual study cubicles inside here. Reserve ahead of time - individual spots. There's a sub-room inside KMC 2-101 that contains Bloomberg computers & another printer. Large communal tables in the room, too.

KMC 2-110: 18 Meeting rooms inside here. There's also a printer. Reserve ahead of time to get your spots here. Requires: 3 students/room.

KMC 3rd Floor

3rd Floor Rotunda: 2 print stations, 10 computers, and spaces for group tables and individual tables against the windows. It can get noisy, especially when classes have breaks.

KMC 4th Floor

KMC 4-130: 6 Meeting rooms inside here. There's also a printer, a couple of lounge seats, stapler, and long table to sit at. Reserve ahead of time to get your spots here. Requires: 3 students/room.

4th Floor Rotunda: 2 print stations, 4 computers in the hall, located above the 3rd Floor Rotunda (so some noise from below), and spaces for group tables and individual tables against the windows. Can be noisy.

KMC 4-70: Starbucks Lounge: Named due to the similar feel and colors, this is an open study room with a printer, seats and laptop tables.

KMC 5th Floor

Outside KMC 5-100, Computer Stations: A print station, 8 computers, 2 printers, tucked away in the far back corner outside the OCD office.

WARNING: As much as we are surrounded by Sternies, please remember to always keep an eye on your things. Theft does happen, and you are responsible for your own belongings. Don't leave your phone or valuables unattended.

Stern Classrooms: Classrooms may be used if open, but note that professors and administrators can kick groups out for academic purposes or school uses. Student activities have second priority. If you have a reservation and the room is locked, contact the front desk to open the room. To reserve classrooms for activities or classes, review: <http://www.stern.nyu.edu/portal-partners/student-activities/services-forms/request-space-event-services/index.htm>

Outdoor Spaces:

Gould Plaza: The large open plaza space that is above Paulson Auditorium, with seating. Around the corner is a secured bike rack, too, accessible via a swipe card.

4th Floor Outdoor Patios: Located on the fourth floor, there are two patios, one facing Gould Plaza and a second along the back of Stern facing West 3rd St. These are open seasonally, and usually only during the day.

Other Outdoor Patios in Stern: There are a number of other outdoor platforms in Stern, but most of them are not accessible to the student body.

Other Options:

There are other options for study space if it seems like the building is filled up. Keep in mind, these are open often to the rest of NYU or the public.

Tisch: The undergraduate building of NYU Stern has numerous lobby spaces, classrooms, study areas, and laptop stations, but undergraduates usually have priority here. Accessible from KMC via the 1st floor corridor or the Upper and Lower Concourse levels.

KMC-Bobst Corridor: Located outside between KMC and Bobst, there are multiple metal chairs and tables here to sit. Not well-lit at night, though.

Bobst Library (70 Washington Sq. South): The massive brick building beside KMC, you can find study rooms in the lower level, and throughout the stacks on levels 4 through 10. The mezzanine is a good place to wait out bad weather, and you can rent laptops (strict about tardy returns) here, too.

Kimmel Center (60 Washington Sq. South): The student center beside Bobst has a Commuter Lounge on the 2nd floor, and lounges on either side of the main stairway entering the building. Floors 2, 7, 8, and 9 all contain more study areas.

Washington Square Park: Located just north and west of NYU Stern, and in front of Bobst and Kimmel, you'll find a large park. Recently undergoing renovation, there are spaces to sit and study on stone or metal benches, some tables, and grass. Plus a fountain and a dog run, too.

For wireless access on the NYURoam network (outside of Stern/KMC/Shimkin/Tisch), you can look at this page: <http://www.nyu.edu/its/wireless/>

Got Food?

Trapped in KMC and need a quick bite?

SOSNOFF LOUNGE / GRAD CAFE is an easy option located on the 1st Floor of KMC. Sosnoff offers drinks, coffee, snacks, and pre-made salads and sandwiches.

Sounds good, but how do I get there?

From 4th Street Entrance:

Walk past elevators, go down small flight of stairs and turn right.

From Schwartz Plaza Entrance:

Pass information desk and turn left.

Hours:

Monday – Thursday: 8 am to 8 pm

Friday: 8 am to 7 pm

Saturday: 8 am to 3:30 pm

Got a late night group project or an early morning study session and need a quick jolt of caffeine or a sugar high?

KMC has vending machines with drinks, snacks and candy located on floors 2, 3 and 6 between the two sets of elevators on the north side of the building.

Neighborhood Eats

Whether you want to grab something on your way to class or plan a nice dinner out with friends, we've scoped out many of the offerings within walking distance of NYU and noted cost ranges ($ to $$$); where available, websites have been listed so you can check out menus, hours, etc.

Where Can I Get Books, a Laptop & School Supplies?

Text Books

NYU Bookstore

(Note: The Professional Bookstore is now part of the Main Bookstore at this location.)

726 Broadway

(212) 998-4667

<http://www.bookstores.nyu.edu/>

Hours: Monday – Saturday..... 10am - 9pm

Sunday..... 11am - 6pm

Instructions:

To get a list of the books you need click on the link to the NYU bookstore above. Then click on “Textbook Ordering & Inquiry.” Next click on “Find Your Textbooks.” Now select the term, enter your net id & date of birth. Your list of books including ISBN numbers will appear.

Amazon is another great source for books, both new and used: www.amazon.com

In fact, Amazon offers a free six month membership in Amazon Prime (benefits include free 2-day shipping) to students, all you need is your stern email address to qualify:

<http://www.facebook.com/l.php?u=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.amazon.com%2Fgp%2Fstudent%2Fsignup%2Finfo&h=ec1a6>

Textbooks’R’us is another online source for textbooks with numerous promotions for free shipping:

<http://www.textbooksrus.com/>

Additional online sources for textbooks include: <http://www.textbookrevolution.org> and <http://www.textbooks.com/> among others.

You can also rent your books for the semester. If interested in renting, try out these sites:

<http://nyubookstore.rentsbooks.com/>, <http://www.chegg.com/>, <http://www.textbooksrus.com> OR <http://www.bookrenter.com/>

Some eBooks are available through “CafeScribe”, “Jumpbooks” and “CourseSmart eBooks”:

<http://www.bookstores.nyu.edu/main.store/booksearch.html>. The list of available eBooks is growing every day.

NYU Stern Book Swap

At the end of each semester a grassroots book swap tends to pop up on Facebook. Here students can swap books with those who are in the opposite core classes. Be sure to check Facebook in late August and early January to find these “Swaps” if interested.

Virtual Business Library (VBL)

The Virtual Business Library at Stern is your personal research library at Stern or on the go. It is an incredible resource and one you should get familiar with.

You can find the library at: <http://library.nyu.edu/vbl/> or you can access it through Sternlinks. To access the library you need to have an NYU (not Stern) email. Every NYU student has one, so just make sure it is activated and you are good to go.

When you first visit the VBL take a couple of minutes to watch the short tutorial video.

If you need assistance in your search, there are many ways to get help:

- Very comprehensive Business FAQ section:
http://faq.vbl.nyu.edu/recordList?library=nyu_business&institution=NYU
- <http://library.nyu.edu/ask/> includes a chat feature where you can communicate with librarians. This feature is also imbedded on the side of the search pages for easy access.
- IM: AskBobst
- Text/SMS: 646-265-1342
- Call: 212-998-2500
- Email: <http://library.nyu.edu/ask/email.html>
- You can also schedule an appointment to meet with a subject expert:
<http://library.nyu.edu/forms/research/consultations.html>

Even if there is a resource you need that the library does not have, there is an interlibrary loan service. You can make a request through the NYU library (not the business library) and they can borrow it for you and send it as a PDF: <http://ill.library.nyu.edu/illiad/illiad.dll>

Remember, the people working at the library are there to help you. Do not hesitate to contact them when you have any issues. If you have tried to figure out why something is not working or cannot find something, let them know.

I Gotta Run an Errand!

You're at school to meet with your study group and you _____ (need a new battery for your iPhone, need to get some cash, remember you are out of toothpaste, need to hit Fed Ex, etc.). No problem, just consult this list and you can see where to run your errands in the neighborhood. Please be aware that phone numbers and locations may change.

Dude, Where Can I Park My Car? (Part II)

Wanna try parking on the street? Here are some tips!

Free Parking.

Remember, sides of the street do matter!

Typically there's a lot of free parking after 6 pm on weekdays and all day Saturday and Sunday along:

- West 4th St.
- West 3rd St.
- Washington Place
- Waverly Place
- Greene St.
- Mercer St.
- University Place

Meters.

Note: there are both one-hour and two-hour meters.

One-hour Meters.

- On the south side of Washington Place.
- Also if you go out further towards 6th Ave.
- And on 8th Street.

Two-hour Meters.

- On La Guardia Place until 7 pm.

Remember not to block hydrants, and always check for posted temporary no parking signs. They put those up for construction, buses, and more on a regular basis.

On Sundays, there are no meter rules applied, although watch out, they tend to stick up signs for no parking all over on weekends for various street fairs or other construction work.

There's no parking at any time at the following locations:

- In the front of Bobst Library
- North side of Washington Square South, any side of Washington Square East or West
